These doxie girls came from a couple with 11 doxies. Their elderly owners were once breeders; however, when the wife became ill and passed away suddenly over the Christmas Holiday, the husband called Big Dog for help. The husband is also elderly and has Parkinson's making taking care of 11 doxies alone a very difficult task. We started by taking in the four girls you see above. Emily is the eldest doxie at 14, although her mother still lives at the home and is nearly 20 years old. Emily is Hanna's mother (Hanna is 12) and Hanna is Hobbit's mother. Tootsie Roll/ Little Girl is from another litter. All four needed vaccinations, heartworm tests, dental cleanings, and microchips. All four are now healthy, Tootsie Roll has found a home, but the other three are still looking...if you have room in your heart and home this Valentine's Day consider one of these girls.
